On the CERTIFIED Podcast: Creativity in Teaching Communications with Jennifer Stubblefield

You know when something is so good, you just want to tell everyone about it? That's how we felt about our CSB Academy webinar with Jennifer Stubblefield. We couldn't keep this one to ourselves, so we wanted to make sure our listeners had a chance to get Jennifer's advice.

We got a peek inside Jennifer's treasure chest of experience during this episode. We talk about her favorite projects for teaching communication skills in the classroom. We discussed everything from Fortune 500 projects and portfolios to elevator pitches and the importance of an undershirt in mock interviews. If you teach any business course, you'll want to listen, save, and share this episode. Just trust us on this one.

Curriculum Aligned to App Development with Swift Certifications

If you're new to teaching Swift, you may be wondering where to start building your course curriculum. Develop in Swift curriculum from Apple is geared toward high school and higher education students, and teaches both Swift, a powerful and intuitive open-source programming language designed by Apple, and Xcode on Mac to new and experienced coders.
