Announcing the New Master Certification in Entrepreneurship

The Master Certification in Entrepreneurship adds an additional credential to Certiport's Entrepreneurship and Small Business (ESB) for those who also earn Intuit's Design for Delight Innovator certification. Earning both the new ESB V.2 and Intuit's Design for Delight Innovator certification will result in a learner being awarded a Master Certification in Entrepreneurship.

This certification combines the essential concepts and business principles from ESB and adds the value of Intuit's design thinking principles from the Design for Delight Innovator certification. The result is a comprehensive validation of entrepreneurial principles, core business management concepts, and iterative process designed to help you understand problems, challenge assumptions, and create innovative solutions.

Contact your Certiport Representative to learn more about the Entrepreneurship and Small Business, Intuit Design for Delight Innovator, and the Master Certification in Entrepreneurship.

Building Cars and My Career with ACU Certification

Engines revving. Gas pumping. Cars zooming. Racing cars are a feast for the senses. But none of this would be possible without engineers and designers. Juan Luna Jose knows what it takes to build a car from the ground up. Juan's uncle introduced him to motocross and cars when he was just 13. However, his career as an engineer truly launched when he became an Autodesk Certified User. Find out how Juan is using his ACU certification to engineer cars around the world.
