Announcing a Name Change to GMetrix Practice Tests

Certiport has announced that the name of GMetrix Practice Tests will change to CertPREP Practice Tests. No changes are being made to the functionality or performance of the practice tests. Only the name is changing.

The name 'GMetrix' is used for a platform that hosts a broad suite of learning products, as well as practice tests. This name change will help bring clarity and distinction between the two areas. CertPREP Practice Tests will include all the same features, benefits, and functionality that GMetrix Practice Tests are known for. Support will still be provided through GMetrix. Current licenses and vouchers for GMetrix Practice Tests will be honored, and educators will continue to work with their Certiport Territory Manager, just as they have in the past.
